

Bachelor Module Guide

Managing Organisations (MO52)

Aims and Objectives of this module:

- Identify all organisational resources, including financial, physical and intangible resources, and analyse how they contribute to organisational capabilities and competitive advantage
- Outline the key principles for effective value management of large physical resources
- Understand how organisations can improve their organisational performance by management control, power and development
- Analyse resource management processes, recommend changes for improvement, and monitor and control the results of such changes
- Explain the role and importance of information and communications technology in organisational resource management
- Explain the structure, components and objectives of an effectively designed performance management system, including the balanced scorecard framework for performance management
- Explain how values of social and environmental responsibility and sustainability, and ethical conduct (good corporate citizenship), and the principles of 'good' corporate governance can be effectively embedded in organisational resource management processes.

<h1>Module Description</h1>
Module Name	Managing Organisations
Module Code	MO52
Period	Year 2	Phase 2
Teacher	Bob Dyson
Email address	Bob.dyson@wittenborg.eu
Prerequisite	Phase 1 related modules (MO) or equivalent
Introduction	The structure and design of the organization defines the functional part of the behavior in the organization. There is a demand for flexibility in the organization due to differences in the environment such as technology. The organization has to improve its performance continually, therefore management control and power should be effective for the organization and its members.
Goals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Identify all organisational resources, including financial, physical and intangible resources, and analyse how they contribute to organisational capabilities and competitive advantage</li> <li>• Outline the key principles for effective value management of large physical resources</li> <li>• Understand how organisations can improve their organisational performance by management control, power and development</li> <li>• Analyse resource management processes, recommend changes for improvement, and monitor and control the results of such changes</li> <li>• Explain the role and importance of information and communications technology in organisational resource management</li> <li>• Explain the structure, components and objectives of an effectively designed performance management system, including the balanced scorecard framework for performance management</li> <li>• Explain how values of social and environmental responsibility and sustainability, and ethical conduct (good corporate citizenship), and the principles of 'good' corporate governance can be effectively embedded in organisational resource management processes.</li> </ul>
Content	3. The Nature and Context of Organisations 4. Individual Differences and Diversity 5. The Nature of Learning 6. Perception and Communication 8. The Nature of Work Groups and Teams 9. Working in Groups and Teams 16. Technology and Organisations 17. Organisational Control and Power 18. Corporate Responsibility and Ethics 19. Organisation Culture and Change 20. Organisational Performance and Effectiveness
Instruction / Study Load	24 Lesson hours 8 Preparation Lesson hours 10 Assignments / Homework hours 20 Exam and exam preparation hours 50 Literature ( Depending on the length and difficulty of the book ) hours  The course uses 350 pages from the book(s) and journal articles where: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 350 pages easy reading and understanding material – 50 hours</li> </ul>

	Criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Difficult reading and understanding material – 3 pages per hour</li> <li>• Average reading and understanding material – 5 pages per hour</li> <li>• Easy reading and understanding material – 7 pages per hour</li> </ul> Total 112 Hours
IBA Final Qualification Mapping	Mapped with numbers: 1,2,,3,11,12,15 and 18 See EEG for further explanation.
Teaching Language	English
Teaching Methods	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Classroom lecturing</li> <li>- Case study discussions</li> <li>- Feedback and presentation sessions</li> <li>- Interviews and debates</li> <li>- Video and film</li> <li>- Discussion sessions</li> </ul>
Module / Lecture and seminar status	Compulsory
Testing and assessment	Written Examination (1) See EEG for further explanation.
European Credits	4
Required literature	Management and Organisational Behaviour Edition Laurie J. Mullins 9 th Ed.: ISBN: 978-0-273-7248-7
Recommended literature	Managing the professional firm, David H. Maister The Free press New York, 2003, ISBN 90.5261.271.4 Dynamics of Organizational Change and Learning Wily handbooks in the psychology of management in organizations. Edited by Jaap Boonstra, John Wiley &amp; Sons, Ltd, 2004, ISBN 0-471-87737-9
Notes

Module Plan

Module Name	Managing Organisations
Lesson 1
Content	3. The Nature and Context of Organisations Perspectives of the organisation  The formal organisation  Basic components of an organisation  Private and public sector organisations  Social enterprise organisations  Production and service organisations  Types of authority and organisations  The classification of organisations  The organisation as an open system  Interactions with the environment  The comparative study of organisations  The analysis of work organisations  Contingency models of organisation  The informal organisation  Organisational conflict  Contrasting views of conflict  Positive and negative outcomes  The sources of conflict  Strategies for managing conflict  Organisational stress  Is stress necessarily to be avoided?  Causes of stress  Coping with stress  The work/life balance  The organisation of the future 4. Individual Differences and Diversity The recognition of individuality  How do individuals differ?  Personality  Nomothetic and idiographic approaches  Nomothetic personality theories  Idiographic theoretical approaches  Complementary approaches  Applications within the work organisation  Emotions at work  Type A and Type B personalities  Ability  Emotional intelligence (EI)  Attitudes  Attitude change  Testing and assessment  Diversity management  The business case for diversity  Diversity training  Top performing organisations  Criticisms and limitations

	Diversity, gender and organisations
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the perspectives and basic components of an organisation;</li> <li>• Distinguish alternative types and classifications of organisations;</li> <li>• Examine the organisation in terms of an open systems model;</li> <li>• Explain the nature and importance of the informal organisation;</li> <li>• Review the sources and impact of organisational conflict;</li> <li>• Explore the nature and impact of stress at work;</li> <li>• Assess the importance of the work/life balance and the organisation of the future.</li> <li>• Focus on valuing individual differences and factors affecting behaviour and performance;</li> <li>• Apply key issues of personality studies to the work organisation;</li> <li>• Explain the nature of ability and emotional intelligence;</li> <li>• Detail the nature and significance of attitudes to the workplace;</li> <li>• Assess the value of psychometric tests and assessments;</li> <li>• Explore the nature and importance of diversity management;</li> <li>• Identify dimensions of diversity and evaluate the business case for diversity.</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapters 3 and 4
Tasks (self-study in class or homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 2
Content	5. The Nature of Learning  The meaning and nature of learning  Organisations and the management of learning  How do people learn?  Behaviourism  Operant conditioning  Social learning  Limitations of the behavioural theories  Cognitive theories  Learning styles  Knowledge management  Emerging technologies and learning  Problems of managing knowledge  Creativity  Facilitating learning  Learning theory applied to study skills  Applications of learning theory to organisations 6. Perception and Communication  The perceptual process  Selectivity in attention and perception  Internal factors  Cultural differences  External factors  Organisation and arrangement of stimuli  Perceptual illusions  Selection and attention  Organisation and judgement

	Connection of the conscious, unconscious and physiology          Perceiving other people          Non-verbal communication and body language          Interpersonal communications          Neuro-linguistic programming (NLP)          Transactional analysis (TA)          Attribution theory          Perceptual distortions and errors          Stereotyping          The halo effect          Perceptual defence          Projection          Self-fulfillment prophecy          Understanding the organisational process
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the significance of learning in organisational behaviour;</li> <li>• Develop understanding about individual differences and how people learn;</li> <li>• Detail different theories and studies about learning;</li> <li>• Assess the importance of learning styles;</li> <li>• Review knowledge management and its impact on learning;</li> <li>• Assess the significance of creativity in the learning process;</li> <li>• Explain the facilitation of learning and applications of learning theory.</li> <li>• Explain the nature of the perceptual process and selectivity and attention;</li> <li>• Detail internal and external factors that provide meaning to the individual;</li> <li>• Examine the organisation and arrangement of stimuli, and perceptual illusions;</li> <li>• Explain the importance of selection and attention, and organisation and judgment;</li> <li>• Identify problems and difficulties in perceiving other people and non-verbal communications;</li> <li>• Evaluate the relevance of neuro-linguistic programming and transactional analysis;</li> <li>• Review the importance of an understanding of perception and communication.</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapters 5 and 6
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 3
Content	8. The Nature of Work Groups and Teams The meaning and importance of groups and teams          Differences between groups and teams          Group values and norms          Formal and informal groups          Reasons for formation of groups or teams          Group cohesiveness and performance          Membership          Work environment          Organisational          Group development and maturity

	Social identity theory          Potential disadvantages of strong, cohesive groups          Characteristics of an effective work group          The effects of technology          Virtual teams          Role relationships          Role conflict          The importance of teamwork 9. Working in Groups and Teams          Interactions among members          Belbin's team roles 342          Patterns of communication 344          Analysis of individual behaviour          Sociometry          Interaction analysis          Frameworks of behavioural analysis          Balance between the team and the individual          Individual compared with group or team performance          Brainstorming          Quality circles          Group dynamics          Self-managed work groups          Building successful teams
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the meaning and importance of work groups and teams;</li> <li>• Distinguish between groups and teams, and between formal and informal groups;</li> <li>• Explain the main reasons for the formation of groups and teams;</li> <li>• Examine factors which influence group cohesiveness and performance;</li> <li>• Analyse the nature of role relationships and role conflict;</li> <li>• Review the characteristics of an effective work group;</li> <li>• Evaluate the importance of groups and teams for effective organisational performance.</li> <li>• Explain interactions among members of a group and membership of successful teams;</li> <li>• Detail main types of contributions or team roles;</li> <li>• Contrast patterns of communication networks within small work groups;</li> <li>• Examine methods of analysing the behaviour of individual members;</li> <li>• Distinguish different group functions and member roles, and explain the use of frameworks of behavioural analysis;</li> <li>• Evaluate the nature of individual or group or team performance;</li> <li>• Review the importance of, and influences on, successful teamworking.</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapters 8 and 9
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 4
Content	16. Technology and Organisations          Why study technology?          What do we mean by technology?

	Approaches to technology and organisation  Decision-making processes  Involvement of HAM specialists and users of technology  Technology, work and organisational behaviour  Skill, work design and Job quality  Centralisation versus decentralisation of control  Location of work  Nature of social interactions  The pace and intensity of work  The 'digital divide' and job security
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Detail the variety of perspectives used to theorize on the nature of technology</li> <li>• Explain the relevance of technology for an increasing range of uses in organization</li> <li>• Analyze the significance of current generations of information and communication technology, and its potential to create complex networks</li> <li>• Examine the nature and significance of the technology adoption and introduction phase</li> <li>• Evaluate the involvement of non-technical specialists in technological change</li> <li>• Assess how technology can influence ways in which work patterns are designed and controlled</li> <li>• Explain how new technology can affect social interactions and stress at work</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapter 16
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 5
Content	17. Organisational Control and Power  The controversial nature of control  Expression of managerial behaviour  Elements of an organisational control system  Forms of control  Strategies of control in organisations  Characteristics of an effective control system  Power and management control  Perspectives of organisational power  Pluralistic approaches to power  The balance between order and flexibility  Behavioural factors in control systems  Financial and accounting systems of control  The concept of empowerment  The manager-subordinate relationship  Benefits of delegation  Reasons for lack of delegation  The art of delegation  A systematic approach to empowerment and delegation  Does empowerment deliver?
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the nature and importance of control in work organization</li> <li>• Identify the essential elements in a management control system, and different forms and classifications of control</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Detail characteristics of an effective control system, and examine the importance of behavioral factors</li> <li>• Explain the nature of power and management control, and review perspectives of organization power</li> <li>• Explore the process of delegation, and the concept and importance of empowerment</li> <li>• Assess the nature and impact of financial and accounting systems of control</li> <li>• Recognize the human and social factors that influence people's patterns of behavior.</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapter 17
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 6
Content	18. Corporate Responsibility and Ethics Organisational ideologies and principles Mission statements The profit objective The balanced scorecard Corporate social responsibilities (CSRs) Organisational stakeholders The UN Global Compact Values and ethics Ethics and corporate social responsibility Business ethics Codes of business conduct (or ethics)
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the significance of organisational ideologies and principles;</li> <li>• Review the nature and value of mission statements;</li> <li>• Examine the importance of the profit objective</li> <li>• Assess the concepts of corporate social responsibilities and organisational stakeholders;</li> <li>• Explore approaches to the consideration of values and ethics in organisations;</li> <li>• Evaluate the nature and scope of codes of business conduct;</li> <li>• Review the importance of ethics and corporate social and responsibilities for the effective management of a work organisation.</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapter 18
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 7
Content	19. Organisation Culture and Change Organisation development, culture and change Organisational culture Types of organisational culture Influences on the development of culture The cultural web The importance of culture

	Organisational climate Employee commitment The nature of organisational change Planned organisational change Assistance to change The management of organisational change Overcoming resistance to change
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Explain the meaning and nature of organization development</li> <li>• Examine the nature, types and main features of organizational culture</li> <li>• Evaluate influence on the development of culture and the importance of culture</li> <li>• Detail the characteristics of organizational climate and employee commitment</li> <li>• Explore the nature of organizational change and reasons for resistance to change</li> <li>• Examine the management of organizational change, and human and social factors of change</li> <li>• Review the importance of organizational culture and the ability of the organization to adapt to change</li> </ul>
Required Preparation	Chapter 19
Tasks (self-study / homework)	In class given assignments and homework
Lesson 8
Content	20. Organisational Performance and Effectiveness The nature of organisational effectiveness The democratic enterprise The learning organisation Total quality management (TQM) Business process re-engineering (BPR) The importance of effective management The meaning and nature of management development Management development process Continuing professional development (CPD) The EFQM Excellence Model Assessing organisational performance A range of different criteria Successful organisations and people Employee engagement The future of work and management
Aims	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assess the nature of organizational effectiveness</li> <li>• Examine the benefits of the learning organization, tqm and business process re-engineering</li> <li>• Explain the importance of effective management</li> <li>• Evaluate the main features and requirements of the management development process</li> <li>• Explore the importance and effectiveness of management education , training and development</li> <li>• Provide criteria for assessing organizational performance and effectiveness</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Review the future of management and nature of successful organization</li></ul>
Required Preparation	All chapters
Tasks (self-study / homework)	All chapters

Module Evaluation Plan

Module Evaluation Plan
Module Name	Managing Organisations
	Block	Type of Evaluation	% Weight of Final Module Mark
Evaluation 1	6	Written Examination	100%
Total mark required for pass 5.5			Total must equal 100%
Short explanation            There is a short description of this in the Education Guide under Examinations and Evaluation leading to EC Credits. Content of the exam covers the topics that have been given in the module plan. Teacher explanation:
Final mark required for pass:5.5
Notes: Required Attendance of 75 % of the lecture. If students miss more than 1 lesson in a block of 4 weeks, they can be barred from taking the exam at the Exam week, and will be required to wait until the re-sit at the following block Exam week. After this, the next opportunity will be the following year.			