

WITTENBORG
University of Applied Sciences

WWW.WITTENBORG.EU

Wittenborg Student Accommodation

In Apeldoorn, Wittenborg University provides all its arriving international students with accommodation as part of the package fee for entering students. It also arranges accommodation for Dutch and “domestic” international students on request. For student housing in Apeldoorn Wittenborg has joined forces with the government housing corporations which will provide standard student accommodation to national and international students.

At the present time Wittenborg’s student accommodation units range from individual studios to apartments for 3 to 5 students to houses in which up to 6 students share facilities. Wittenborg aims at providing a choice between single and shared rooms. It is common that male and female students live together in the same accommodation. The accommodation will often provide a communal living space, kitchen facilities such as a fridge, cooker and utensils, as well as a shared bathroom, and Internet connection. The housing is often located within close cycling distance of the campus. The city of Apeldoorn also has an excellent urban bus system.

Spacebox® studios

In the summer of 2011, a new form of student housing has been brought to Apeldoorn by Wittenborg: the so-called Spacebox® studios. 24 of these colourful compact housing units of three by six meters, including a kitchenette, bathroom with shower, and living area, are placed on a location within walking reach of the central train and bus station, the university, two supermarkets, and a shopping area. A concierge of Wittenborg University will function as a supervisor of the Spacebox studios, to make sure everything remains in order. The Spacebox® studios will stay in Apeldoorn for the coming five years. In the future, permanent student accommodation will be realized and possibly centralized and located closer to the university itself.

Wittenborg’s Student Housing Department is available throughout the week and during weekends for support through e-mail and telephone. Entry Requirements - IBA Programmes